THE ODD FELLOWS.

The Grand Encampment to-day Fellowed by the Grand Lodge To-morrow-Elab-orate Programme of Entertainment Onlined by the Local Committee.

The annual meeting of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows of West Virginia will open in Wheeling to-morrow at 10 a. m. at Odd Fellows' hall, corner of Twelfth and Chapline streets, and from all indications it will be one of the most suful ever held by the fraternity. And if the visiting delegates fail to en joy themselves it will not be the fault of the local lodges who have been working, arduously planning enjoyable otertainments. Odd Fellows' hall has recently under-Odd Fellows hall has recently and every room in the building reflects the decorator's art. The Wheeling lodges some time ago appointed representatives on a general committee, which held a meeting last night, and perfected final details for the grand lodge's spare hours. The list of officers of the grand lodge were previously published. grand lodge were previously published in the Intelligencer. The grand master is Hon. George C. Sturgiss, of Morgan-

The graind encampment of the order convenes this morning at 10 o'clock. It will be in session all day, and the presiding officer is Grand Patriarch J. P. Gurry, of Buckhannon. There are skiy encampments in the state and 167 subordinate lodges of Odd Fellows.

The social features of the week commence this evening with the reception given by the Degree of Rebekah. Tomorrow evening, the "Bohemian Gie!" at the Grand, sung by the Wilbur Opera Company, will be taken in. Tickets for this attraction will be given free by the local committee to representatives to the grand lodge and encampment, members of the Degree of Rebekah or those Rebekahs who are wives of representatives to the grand lodge. The plat of seats will be on exhibition at Odd Feilows' half to-day from 8 to 12 a. m.

ARRIVED THIS MORNING.

The Palatial Queen City Reached Wheel-ing at 1:30 O'Clock, with a Party of Prominent People From Ohio on Board. Reception Here on Thursday.

The palatial Queen City, one of the finest boats that ever turned a wheel on western waters, reached this port at 1:30 o'clock this morning, having on board a numerous party of prominent people from Ohio, chaperoned by Col. John L. Vance, of Gallipolis, president of the Ohlo Valley Improvement Association, and Commodore James A. Henderson, and Commodore James A. Henderson, general manager of the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati packet line. The party boarded the beat at Gallipolis on Sunday evening, and will take the trip to Pittsburgh and return to Gallipolis.

Colonel Vance was seen by an Intelligencer reporter just after the Queen City's arrival. He said:

"This trip has been a revelation to the people, who never before had even a partial realization of the importance of the Ohlo as a waterway. They see that it is a stream worthy of the improvement of which our association is working for."

Commodore Henderson said the enterdore Henderson said the enter-Commodore Henderson said the enter-tainment of the party at Pitrsburgh would be elaborate. He would then take them on a trip over the Pitsburgh har-bor in his handsome steam yacht, Wi-nona, and later they would be enter-tained by the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce.

Instead, the chamber's com-mittee will assemble at the wharfboat mittee will assemble at the wharfboat Thursday morning, at 8 o'clock, when the boat will be on her return trip to Cincinnati. President Quarrier, desires it stated that all citizens are invited to take part in the reception to the visitors to-morrow morning. If possible, the boat will be held back an hour or wors so that the visitors can be taken so that the visitors can be taken Logan; Lieutenant C. W. H. Needaam, Seventh Ohio volumeer infantry; Frank B. Vance, Gellipolis.

This unique inspection of the Ohio river from Gallipolis to Pittsburgh is the result of a desire on the part of the president of the improvement association to show some of the prominent citizens of the interior of the state the importance and extent of the river and its commerce. It was at first intended to limit the number to be taken along, Governor Bushnell and Actorney General Monnect, with a few others, having been in mind; but it was found that the number to be included would be much larger. The work of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association is largely one of education, and this more than ever stamps it as a public organization for great good. When it is remembered that the Ohio carries on its waters more freight than any other water-course in the world, save one, and that on the Kanawha, one of its tributaries, originates more freight than comes from the Miseouri, it is easy to see that there is room for study.

Death of Archbishop Gross

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 14.-William Hickley Gross, archbishop of Oregon, Roman Catholic church, died at St. Joseph's hospital, this city, to-day of seph's hospital, this city, to-day of heart disease. Archbishop Gross came to this city to attend a celebration at —St. Charles' College, Ellicott City, Md., and was taken sick on November 6, since which time he has been confined to his bed in St. Joseph's hospital. It was thought until this morning that his condition was improving, and that he would recover, but a sudden change for the worse resulted in his death.

UNVARYING FORTUNES

The Fame of the Whiskies of the Monofigabela Valley Dates From Its First Use Upon the Heights,

Bruised, battered and blackened with age, one of the first sights that caught the vision was an old still. The card it bore bespoke the legend: "102 years old." It seemed so strangely out of place among modern things. Displayed age it was in a boath decked with depiace among modern things. Displayed as it was in a booth decked with devices of the highest decorative art, among festoonings of grain and musty barrels, begrimed with dross of years of cellar storage, the old still seemed to add a distinctive finish to the excellent exhibit of the Large Distilling Com-exhibit of the Large Distilling Company.

Upon questioning the attendant the following was adduced: "The Large Distilling Company was founded over 100 years ago by John Large, and was the first distillery in the Monongaheta valley. The stil you see there is the one that produced the first output of this company. In the days of John Large his whisky was always quoted for its absolute purity, and so jealously has this quality been guarded that when transmissions of business interests were made from father to son, and so on to present owners, the express stipulation made a part of such sale was that the 'whisky produced by sale was that the 'whisky produced by press stipulation made a part of such sale was that the 'whisky produced by any corporation bearing my name shall be absolutely pure.'

"Owing to the purity of the Large whisky, it has been awarded number-less medals, among which is the World's fair medal. The booth you see here is made up of grains taken right from fields in which they are grown for our use. The samples shown are drawn directly from the original packages, while these barreis, one of which is over 17 years old, and the others 10 years and 8 years old respectively, were taken directly from our vast storage warehouses.

"The mellowness, body, bouquet and purity of Large whisky affords and assures a continuous growth and constant demand. To-day it is sold nearly in every first class club, hotel, cafe and bar. Orders for Large whisky reach us constantly from all parts of the world, while its sale in the United States is enormous and increasing. But lately the government was in communication with us relative to its use in

DISASTROUS FIRE

Visits Canonsburg, Pa-Fully one Third of the Business Portion of the Town Wiped Out.

CANONSBURG, Pa., Nov. 14.-This town was visited this morning by a furious fire, which, before it could be gotten under control, wiped out fully a third of the business portion, two of the principal hotels, many dwellings and did damage estimated at $150,000. No lives were lost, as far as can be ascertained. The section devastated in-cluded West Pike street and Jefferson certained. The section devastated included West Pike street and Jefferson avenue.

The flames were first discovered in the dwelling house of Reed Williams, and before they could be stopped burned these places: Gowers brick carriage works; Cochins & McEwan's furniture warerooms; three dwellings, occupied by Mr. McEwan, W. F. Pulton and H. Ingram; Weller & Son's livery stable; Michael Eagan's dwelling; W. F. Fulton's livery stable; Weller & Son's store building; Manufacturers' National Gas building; E. T. Benkel's restaurant; Commercial Hotel; McNary & Kennedy's feed and livery stable; Canonsburg Hotel; the two city council buildings; McDowell & Dickson's lumber yard. The approximate insurance is $50,000.

All the buildings but one were frame, and burned like tinder, under the force of the wind. The volunteer fire department, with bucket brigades, could make no headway, and the telephone operator had barely time to raise by wire Washington and Pittsburgh, calling for aid, before being driven from the building by the flames.

All the guests at the hotels and the people in the dwelling houses saved some of their valuables. During the progress of the fire, thieves reaped a rich harvest in the west end of the town. After the fire a dozen or more families found their homes torn upsile down on their arrival, bed clothing, groceries, queensware in fact, aimost everything portable being carried away.

Troops Moving South,
CAMP MEADE, MIDDLETOWN, Pa.,

Nov. 14.-The Fourteenth Pennsylvania regiment left this point for Summer ville, S. C., which will hereafter be the headquarters of General Ames' brigade for the second corps. Colonel Glenn has been in command of the brigade for ten days and will be relieved when he reaches the new camp. The Thirteenth Pennsylvania, Ninth Ohio colored battalion, a wagon train and first division headquarters left to-day. The troops have been leaving on schedule time since Saturday and if there is no delay General Young expects to complete the movement on Wednesday. The Fifteenth Minnesota, Third Connecticut, and Two Hundred and First New York leaves to-morrow for the South, and Wednesday General Young starts with his staff and the signal corps. Dr. Joseph K. In Unnils of Receivers

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 14.-The Turney and Jones Coal Company, of Colum-bus, and the Pennsylvania and Ohio Fuel Company, of St. Paul, with offices also in Chicago, were to-day by the federal court, put into the hands of the Security and Title Company, of Chicago, as receivers. In the suit of Putnam against the companies, application was made to have George S. Beason, of Columbus, also as receiver, but on the objection of Samuel M. Feiton, receiver of the Columbus, Sandusaky & Hocking railroad company, Judge Taft, refused to confirm Beason, who has been employed by the coal company.

Receiver Feiton plead that these coal companies owed the Columbus, Sandusaky & Hocking railroad company, $95,000, and that the interest of the railway company, as well as of the coal companies, should be considered in the appointment of the receiver, Judge Taft reserved to a further date the appointment of some practical coal operator and co-receiver with the Chicago Security and Title Company. MR. HUBBARD'S STATEMENT.

He Gives in Detail the Circumstan Connection with Publications Regard-ing the Arrest of J. El wood Haghes. WHEFLING, Nov. 14, 1898.

John Frew, Eaq., City.

DEAR SIR:—The Wheeling Intelligencer this morning publishes an article with reference to Mr. Hughes' arrest, prefaced by the statement that I dictated the article. I d not dictate it in the form you published it, and you did not publish what you offered and promised to publish. Surely you could not have intended this to happen.

I called at your office on Saturday afternoon only for the purpose of ascertaining who wrote what you printed on Saturday morning and from whom the writer obtained his information. You told me that Mr. Archer, your city editor, had written it, and you kindly sent out for him. When he came he stated that he had gotten the information entirely from Mr. Beans, of the Register, and from Mr. Hughes. You and Mr. Archer gaked whether there were any errors in your Saturday's statement. I told you there were several, and pointed them out. Then you and he offered to print a statement correcting those errors, and asked me to dictate it. I said that any such statement must be made as your statement and not as mine, and to that both of you agreed. I dictated a statement which Mr. Archer wrote in my presence and which you promised would be published this morning. I told you that you need not take my statements as to these matters, and referred you to Mr. Hughes' deposition in the hands of Mr. Walters, the notary, and to copies of it in the hands of Mr. Russell and Messrs. Caldwell & Caldwell. The statement you published this morning is in some material respects different from that you promised to publish. I asked you this morning for the manuscript written by Mr. Archer in my presence, and also for the manuscript of this morning's publication, and explained to you that I mentioned it early because I did not want them destroyed. You have since handed me that manuscript and from it it appears that the opening paragraph of what I dictated and Mr. Archer wrote in my presence and yours, and what you agreed to publish, was: "The article in Saturday's Intelligencer relating to the arrest of Mr. J. Elwood Hughes was written by Mr. R. M. Archer, the city editor of this paper, and was based entirely on statements made by Mr. Hughes. No application for information was made to Mr. Hubbard or to the lady who is plaintiff in the suit against J. E. Hughes, nor to any one on that side of the case."

That statement was to have been made by the Intelligencer and not by me. I did not know who the writer was or his sources of information except as stated matter was giving you a great deal of trouble, that Mr. Archer had been wor-rying all afternoon about the proposed trouble, that Mr. Archer had been worrying all afternoon about the proposed mention of his name as the author of Saturday's statement, and you asked me to agree that his name might be left out. I told you I did not wish to annoy you or Mr. Archer personally, and that his name might be left out,

the statement remaining that the article was written by the city editor. I then asked you how you proposed to have the rest of it read, and you said that it would be stated that the information on which he had written the article was derived from sources believed to be reliable. I told you that I could not consent to that change, but that the persons who had furnished the information to Mr. Archer were to be named. You said you did not like Mr. Beans' name to be mentioned, as he amd Mr. Archer were in the habit of exchanging information. I then said you might leave his name out and describe him as the city editor of the Register. Your final remark was that Mr. Archer would be in soon and you would probably call me again. You did not do so.

Will you kindly publish this to-morrow morning and say in your paper whether or not it is correct?

Yours truly,
W. P. HUBBARD.

The above statement is substantially correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

JOHN FREW.

Adolph Huff not Likely to be Tried for Wife Murder.

THE BODY OF HIS DEAD WIFE

WAS EXHUMED YESTERDAY AF-TERNOON, AND AN EXAMINA-TION BY MEDICAL EXPERTS MADE-IT WILL BE IMPOSSIBLE TO DETERMINE WHETHER OR NOT HUFF POISONED HIS WIFE-AN ARSENICAL PREPAR-ATION USED IN THE EMBALM-ING FLUID.

It is not likely that the man Adolph Huff, who is suspected of having had a hand in the death of his wife here severaly ears ago, will be extradited from Illininois to this state to stand a trial for his life on the charge of murder. The locating of Huff in Bridewell Chicago, and the belief that has become general among the people of the South Side who knew the parties, that Huff got away with his wife for her property, led many to suppose that Huff would be brought to Marshall county charged with murder.

An examination of the remains of Mrs. Huff, whose body was interred in the Red Men's cemetery three years ago, was made yesterday afternoon for the purpose of learning whether there were evidences of poison having been administered the woman. The exhumation of the body was under the direc tion of representatives of the law and medicine. For the former, Prosecuting Attorneys Meyer, of this county, and Parsons, of Marshall county, appeared, Parsons, of Marshall county, uppeared, and the experts were Drs. H. P. Linz, of the South Side, and McDonald, of Benwood. Others present were Circuit Clerk Henning, of this city, and Squire Riddle, of Benwood.

The body was found to be practically wasted away entirely, and the physicians soon found that the embalming fulfo used by the undertaker at the time of death contained arsenical matter which would make it impossible to determine whether or not the woman was poisoned.

This decision was conveyed to the representatives of the law, and it is likely Marshall county will make no attempt to extradite Huff from Illinois.
